

The reason I selected to own and pay for the service of XM radio is for the variety and the excellent broadcast selections offered by satellite radio. Regular radio has become complacent with mediocre service and selection to the public. If regular radio would put out a more rounded product it would be a valid argument on their behalf. In the Tampa area I hear people who are older complain about the lack of good listening availability. Maybe 1 station offers their kind of music but they play the same music every day which shows the lack of concern for the listening public. Satellite radio is a blessing and should not be tampered with, after all I am paying for it and it is my choice.
